Meeting was had in person

Meeting Notes:

- Overall, the site looks really good so far! It's a fairly simple idea so there's not really a lot to include and you got it all
- Definitely would want to adjust the pacing of the page and have some space between the sections
- Maybe the bottom navigation links can sit next to each other horizontally across the footer as opposed to stacking horizontally? Or maybe, if you have time and want to make a new, fun little page, we could add a "Contact" page with the information. Maybe this page could have a scrolling gallery of pictures from her social media/ YouTube thumbnails, that type of thing. But this is just a fun suggestion, totally not necessary!
- Sort of similarly, I think it could be nice to have some sort of navigation system for both pages so that users can jump to whichever section they want to look at. How this navigation system is designed is up to you— i know there is already a navigation bar to switch between the two main pages that is fixed at the top, so maybe this nav bar could exist under the "author of speculative fiction" like, or slide in from the left or right if the user hovers over a certain area?
- Since the website content is fairly short, if you have time, maybe you could play around with different hover, scroll, etc. animations to make the page more lively and visually engaging. This doesn't have to be anything crazy and I don't have any exact ideas in mind, this is just a note that you can think about and experiment with if that interests you!
